

WHY IS IT

The name "Louis Meyers" stands for so much in the kid glove market today? Years ago Mr. Meyers started out in the glove business with the idea of establishing a reputation in the making of Kid Gloves. By a personal oversight of his factories he has brought the efficiency of his employees up to a very high standard. He has kept in close touch with his trade, taking advantage of every suggestion for the improvement of his product. He has employed the highest skill to be had in the selection of the skins. As a result where is he today? His ambition has been realized and "Meyers Make" Gloves have a reputation second to none in this country.

Perhaps none of our present actors has so keen and just an appreciation of the nice adjustment of gradations of expression in his stage art as has W. A. Whitecar, who is announced to appear at the opera house on next Friday evening in his new "Texan Idyl," "An Old Sweetheart of Mine." In the part of Dick Scott, head workman on Tom Cragg's ranch, he exhibits rare qualities, qualities that were shown more warily in his great part of Jack Lumley in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird." Never thetic but always natural, he has realized (as Dick Scott) that it is man's destiny to grieve and to endure and in his exposition of this man of men he produces work that takes rank with the best of his time, work that is stamped with a noble sincerity, work that in vigor and directness is not surpassed by any other on the local stage.
